Thomas Bryan Made President Of Jasper Chamber Commerce

Thomas Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bryan, has been elected president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Jasper. He was born and reared in Elba and is a graduate of Elba High School. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan have resided in Jasper for several years. In commenting on Mr. Bryan's election, the Jasper Mountain commented as follows:

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce of this city made a wise choice when it unanimously elected Tom Bryan president. He is energetic, resourceful, and has demonstrated the qualities of leadership so necessary for progress."

"A city's Junior Chamber of Commerce can be extremely helpful toward the progress of a city if it is willing to devote the amount of work necessary. This newspaper believes that work under Mr. Bryan's direction will be done."

Builds Many Homes

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Vickers and children, Mary Linda, Virginia Ann, and J. B. of Decatur, Ga., are visiting Mrs. Vickers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Conner. Mr. Vickers is a prominent contractor, having constructed about 75 houses at Hapeville and 50 at Decatur within the past three years.

Takes Job Teaching

J. Doug Kendrick, who completed a course in agriculture at A.P.I., Auburn, about three weeks ago, has signed up as a teacher of two veterans farm training classes at Pinckard, Dale County. He will have one class of white veterans and one of Negroes. He will start to work on Monday, July 3 and teach two classes a week, the remainder of his time to be spent in the field giving his pupils any information or assistance they may need.

J. Doug's father, T. D. Kendrick said that his son came home from Auburn with the avowed purpose of improving the Kendrick farm in the White-water community, but the protracted drought has made feed and water so scarce that the attractive offer made by Auburn authorities caused them to change their plans. Mr. Kendrick said he has decided to sell off his cattle and encourage his son to be a teacher instead of a dirt farmer.

Anyhow, after I had explained to them that I was conducting an investigation to find out if they were for or against the extension of the sewer lines, I also explained that this was also just a preliminary investigation and that if built the system would have to be paid for with city folding green (or credit) and that put a damper on them. I never been able to figure out people. As long as they figure the cost of a deal is coming out of the profits of the old man with the whiskers and the striped pants they figure they are getting it at the same price as if they sold it, but when you reduce it to the city level, you are spending the money they have to pay in as taxes. Just where do these suckers figure the U.S. Treasury gets its money anyway?

I'm telling you, boy, if the federal income tax is ever repealed, then March 15th is gonna be the biggest national holiday the world has ever known. No cause for celebration could equal that one so if that ever comes to pass you mean to look for me then. I'm gonna be up at my house—staying home to keep from driving while not drinking but) drunk.

"COMPLETE NEWS COVERAGE OF COFFEE COUNTY"

ELBA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1950

Dear Editor

In a recent election in a town not too far away from here, I conducted a poll to see whether people were for or against extending the city sewage system—Naw, it weren't Elba—people in Elba don't have to vote for anything like that. They just naturally in favor of it and the city puts it there if and when the funds are available and everybody is happy—or will be when the expansion program expands out to their house—but then they'll be wanting something else the city can't afford.

Anyhow, I went to this other town to conduct my poll and took around a lot of impressive looking forms to be filled out. I not only asked the people how they want to vote, but why they wanted to vote that way. Ordinarily I would have been told that it was none of my business and I would have been told to get away from the front door and stop scaring the baby and not step on the cat's tail or the third step from the bottom, but I had taken the precaution of making me a big hat band inscribed with the letters S-S-Q and with that and all my bag full of forms to be filled out, and everything I thought I was on a government salary and cooperated with me wonderfully, I don't know if it was that they thought the government was gonna build them a new sewage line, or that they figured I was sucking a living from Uncle Sam and they want they could do the same thing and that gave us something in common or not, I could tell that some of them were tempted to ask what S-S-Q meant but then nobody wanted to appear so ignorant that they didn't understand all the letters in the alphabet soup so they let on like they been expecting something out from S-S-Q on them every day. I didn't have to explain to a one of them that S-S-Q meant Shrdlu's Silly Questions.

Anyway, after I had explained to them that I was conducting an investigation to find out if they were for or against the extension of the sewer lines, I also explained that this was also just a preliminary investigation and that if built the system would have to be paid for with city folding green (or credit) and that put a damper on them. A legend that will equal any that came out of the Wild West took place following the Civil War up in Winston County. It is the legend of Jennie Brooks and her family of boys. The story goes that the family was left penniless after the war, and the sons turned to outlawry. One by one they were killed—until only one was left. Then he too was killed while moonshining. Aunt Jenny died in 1935 at the age of 98.

TIME Has Praise For Dudley J. LeBlanc

TIME Magazine in a recent issue told the fabulous story of Dudley J. LeBlanc, the Medicine King, and described the benefits of HADACOL. The following are excerpts from the TIME story:

"In easygoing Lafayette, La. (pop. 12,010) 425 factory workers build each working day last week turning out more than 100,000 bottles of a murky brown liquid that tastes something like bilge water, and smells worse. The patent medicine called HADACOL has been such a resounding success in 14 Southern states that its backers expect this year to sell $20,000,000 worth (in 4-oz. bottles at $1.25, or in the 24-oz. family 'jug' at $3.50).

Very Sassy. The man responsible for the murky brown medicine is Louisiana's plump State Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc, 50, who had to hustle up a new business before he could make the mistake of running for governor in 1932 against Huey Long.

Recovering from a bout of rheumatism when his doctors gave him Vitamin B-complex, LeBlanc was told that there was money as well as health in vitamins. He hopped up on the subject by reading at home, decided that vitamin would be better if mixed with minerals.

Neither an M.D. nor a pharmacist, LeBlanc had no legal right to sell a down-to-earth, selling policy that included HADACOL and a down-to-earth, selling policy that included HADACOL and a down-to-earth, selling policy that included HADACOL.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Thorn and children, Edward and Peggy, of Servel, Fla. have bought the R. V. McLeod home and have moved into it. Mr. Thorn has opened a barber shop here.

ants thought about the plumbing; 31 were property owners who were also mortgage owners and who would have been in favor of the new pipes if it had not been for the fact that they were also equipped with new assessments—they they became, as they put it, "Not particularly interested." 11 people had gone to considerable expense to get their systems in first class condition and figured they were safe for the next twenty years anyway; 8 people didn't believe in spending public money (Bless them and one man next week they just voted no.

Well, I counted the votes and I found 65 Nos. 72 Yesses, 38 people in favor of the pensions, one opposed, 8 in favor of Xanthodontosis, and one ballot just said "Hell Hitler".

So I figure if you finger on getting into politics I'm just lettin' you know what you're gettin into. Reprinting all or part of this article without the written consent of the author is hereby requested and the author wishes to express thanks for same.

Mrs. Henry Cloud First Indian Named Mother of Year

NEW YORK—Mrs. Henry Cloud, 59, of West Linn, Ore., has been named "Mother of the Year" for the year 1949, with a prize of $1,000.

Mother of four daughters, Mrs. Cloud is the first Indian ever selected for the honor. She was born on White Earth Indian reservation at Foston, Minn.

Mrs. Cloud was graduated from Hampton, Va., Institute and taught school among the Blackfoot Indians in Montana before her marriage. Her late husband was the first Indian ever graduated from Yale university.

Waistline of American Male Larger Since War
ROCHESTER—You are getting bigger around the waist—so is if you are a man, according to a prominent belt manufacturer.

According to Ray Hickok, 74 per cent of the belts sold before the war were size 34 or smaller. By 1949, however, only 10 per cent were in the small size.

From 1939 to 1949, the number of size 38 belts in 1,000 lots of standard sizes rose from 66 to 127. Size 40 rose from 33 to 59. Size 42 went up from 18 to 59 and 44 inches from 8 to 35.

Science Still Puzzled By Brain's Spatiality
BALTIMORE, MD.—One of the world's leading brain surgeons says that scientists must visualize spatial elements in man who controls his complicated brain mechanism.

The statement was made by Dr. Wilder Penfield, professor of neurology at McGill university and director of the Montreal Institute of Neurosurgery, in a lecture on "Geography of the brain."

Modern neurology envisages a master center—like a central executive—of the brain which controls the motor impulses.

The control center, Dr. Penfield told Johns Hopkins hospital medical men, is "the seat of consciousness."

He said all still leaves unanswered the question of the human "mind."

John Barrymore Jr.
Follows Father's Path

John Barrymore Jr., who is making his movie debut in "The Sunflower," a technical action movie at the Elba Theatre Sunday and Monday, July 9th and 10th, studiously avoided seeing his famous father's films because he feared he might not know how to do anything about it.

Not until a short time ago, when he felt confident about his own acting style, did the 17 year old son set to see films starring the late Barrymore, Sr.

Young Barrymore, who had not seen his father since he was a small child, commented after watching Barrymore's screen images.

"I was surprised at the similarity of his gestures and expressions and mine. But I don't believe I'll do anything about it. I guess I inherited them after all."

"The Sunflower" marks young John's first starring role as his screen debut. The cast includes Robert Preston, Robert Sterling, Chill Wills and Cathy Douglas.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT ALABAMA

COAT-OF-ARMS

No other state in the Union has a more historical coat-of-arms than Alabama. Hon. James Simpson first introduced a Bill to legalize a state coat of arms on the shield of the coat-of-arms symbols the emblems of five governments that held sovereignty over Alabama. This shield is supported on either side by eagles, symbols of courage. The crest is a ship like the one used by the first white settlers. The motto beneath the crest reads: "We dare defend our Rights." The motto was selected by Mrs. Marie Bankhead Owen.

About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

Had A Wonderful
Time But There's No Place Like Home

Yes, our fiftieth wedding anniversary, which called for a two weeks celebration, is over, and my wife and I have returned from the "Mountain Top" to the "valley of life".

We, accompanied by our son, D. K. McDowell, wife and daughter, Donna, of Miami, and Mrs. W. J. Blanch and son, Frank, of Plainfield, N. J., motored to Decatur, Ga. Monday, July 3, where we spent a week in the home of another son, D. F. McDowell, a member of the faculty of the Atlanta Division of the University of Georgia. His family consists of Mrs. McDowell, son, Dave, and daughter, Miss Mary Alice.

The week was a very busy one with no dull moments. The whole group celebrated the 4th with a picnic dinner at the Atlanta Division Lodge, between Atlanta and Stone Mountain, where we enjoyed swimming, bowling, Ping-pong, square dancing, horse-shoe pitching, etc.

We visited Stone Mountain and five members of the group including our four-year-old grandson Frank, negotiated the mile and one-quarter steep climb to the summit. The adults were pretty well fagged out as they returned, but Frank was as fresh as the proverbial daisy.

On Tuesday we spent the afternoon exploring the famous Rich Store, the largest department store in the South. On Friday we visited Grant Park where the outstanding attraction was the Cyclorama of the Battle of Atlanta, which has caused countless thousands of spectators to marvel at its realistic portrayal of that memorable battle.

Other interesting places were visited during the week.

Sunday was a full day. We attended Sunday School in the Methodist Memorial Church in Decatur where the attendance made our Elba attendance seem small. In the afternoon we attended the "Pop Concert" at the Fox Theatre, an annual affair sponsored by the City of Atlanta and various civic clubs in conjunction with the Theatre. It is the largest theatre in the South and within minutes after the doors were opened the huge seating capacity of 7,500 was filled to overflowing. It was a musical feast.

Then we made a tour of the Georgia Tech campus and grounds where our grandson, Dave McDowell, is a student in architecture. It is a huge educational plant. Then we visited Piedmont Park, a beautiful place on Sunday night we attended the First Methodist Church of Atlanta where we had the unfettered experience of having to go fifteen or twenty minutes early in order to obtain a seat.

Pierre Harris, famous preacher, lecturer, and ex-major league baseball player, is pastor. He delivered an able sermon. It is said that the huge church is filled to overflowing at each morning and evening service.

But good things must have their endings, so Mrs. McDowell and I took a bus for Montgomery and Elba Monday morning and we are home again. Despite the good time we had on our trip, there is a world of truth in the old saying, "There's No Place Like Home."

We feel that it would be ungrateful for us to neglect to express our sincere thanks for the many nice gifts and expressions of congratulation we received. Words are inadequate to express our appreciation.

No Basis For Rumor

It was rumored here this week that Captain Charles Harrison was killed or missing in Korea. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holland Harrison, who have received no such word from the War Department, and that there is no foundation for such a rumor.

Captain Harrison, who has been stationed in Japan for several months, has been sent to Korea and is with the 21st Artillery division. His mother stated that Mrs. Harrison and the children, who have been residing in Japan for several months, at their request, have been ordered to return home. They expect to leave for Elba in the near future.

Methodists Express Appreciation For Building

Representing the membership of the Elba Methodist Church, we wish to express our most sincere thanks and appreciation for the wonderful support and cooperation that has made it possible to construct our highly valued annex, so greatly needed in order to carry out our Sunday School and church programs in the way we feel they should be conducted.

The building has been completed to a point where it is usable. According to investigators, funds are available.

Of course the tireless and unselfish efforts of our members, is highly appreciated, but we do not deem it necessary to mention their names. However, there are several non-members whose contributions were so generous and valuable that we wish to mention them individually.

Major L. P. Mullins donated large quantities of lumber and other building material at cost, and less, plus a liberal donation of money.
